About Me

I'm a motivated and curious learner with a background in Mathematics & Statistics and a growing passion for technology. Currently pursuing an MCA, I'm developing skills in programming (Java, C++, HTML/CSS), automation (n8n, Google Sheets), and creative tools like Blender and CapCut. I have hands-on experience as a math expert, private tutor, and data operator, where I've demonstrated accuracy, consistency, and adaptability. I enjoy combining logic and creativity—whether coding, solving problems, or building digital content—and I'm eager to contribute to teams where I can keep learning and growing.
